

Words Have Power

Why do people judge others the way they do?
Why do you people judge others based on their hair and shoes?
Why do people always hang out in cliques?
When people get left out they wish they were it
Why do people make fun of others?
I thought that we all were supposed to be sisters and brothers
All people are supposed to be equal, not to be judged by their status
So if these things happen to you,
And you find that your sky isn't blue
Find the person who disrespected you and tell them that words have power
